- ✓ Language and intercultural evening workshops and dinners – working on communication skills across cultures
- ✓ Working lunches – networking and socialising
- ✓ Personalised recorded audio feedback each day throughout the training
- ✓ Guided self-study and consolidation
- ✓ A stimulating and enjoyable social programme, including a trip to the beautiful South West Coast of Ireland

The Nations Total English Programme exists in two versions -

- ✓ The Nations Total English Programme 45/60 – this is the classic version of the programme which has been in place for over 10 years. It comprises 25 hours of 1 to 1 coaching, combined with 20 hours of performance based workshops and 15 hours of socio-cultural activities.

The Nations Total English Programme

Over 60 hours of working and living through English each week

Pre-training analysis & preparation

This analysis identifies your individual goals and the specific areas you need to focus on during your training. The pre-training analysis also helps us plan which of our trainers are best suited to help you achieve these goals. The success of your training programme is largely determined by the expertise and personality of your training team. There is no substitute for experienced and highly competent trainers. Our trainer team has, on average, 12 years experience with Nations.

Programme structure

1 to 1 coaching

Daily personalised training sessions focus 100% on your individual needs. They prepare you for situations that you will encounter in real life.

Performance development group sessions

You will be challenged to put into practice what you learn in your individual training. A range of simulated situations are organised in areas such as negotiations, conference calls, argumentation, presentations etc. Many activities are recorded for improved feedback and analysis.

Language and intercultural workshops

As an international professional you need to be able to communicate effectively with people from different cultures. Our language and cultural sessions are designed to help you become more successful in English in a wide range of day-to-day situations relevant to your job.

Personal audio feedback

Each day you will be provided with a personalised recording of the key expressions you worked on during your 1 to 1 training. This can be listened to each evening and is an excellent source of revision material. This helpful recording acts as your own personalised language course when you return home.

We challenge and work you hard during the course, but in a stimulating and relaxed atmosphere

Working lunches/dinners & socialising

A variety of daily activities are organised to help you become more comfortable and confident when networking and socialising in English. These include working lunches, evening dinners and informal social outings. The language skills you develop here will help you become very comfortable and confident when meeting or hosting international visitors.

Guided self-study and consolidation

Development of a future training path at the end of the Programme

Saturday excursion

On Saturday, if you choose, you will have the opportunity to visit some of the most beautiful locations on the South West Coast of Ireland. The excursion is an ideal opportunity to practise your English in an informal way with a member of the Nations team.

Post-course feedback & support

We offer a system of post-course support to all participants. Before leaving Ireland your trainers will develop an on-going learning strategy to help you maximise the benefits of your training. When you return home, Nations will send you a detailed training evaluation. This evaluation details your overall performance (based on the Common European Framework scale) and makes recommendations and suggestions for continuing training if necessary.

Nations can also provide distance learning programmes that combine telephone training, emails and conference call simulations.

Accommodation Options

Non-residential immersion

Learning English in an English speaking environment means being exposed to real life situations, with and without the support of a trainer. That is why participants on a Nations course are not in a restricted residential environment.

In general, participants on our programmes choose between hotel, bed & breakfast or accommodation with one of our selected host families. Once you decide which option best suits your needs, Nations will do all the organising for you.

Due to the fact that The Nations Total English Programme provides over 60 hours of working and living in English each week, there is no difference between any of the above options in terms of your progress in English. One way or another you will be immersed in English all day.
